

SENNA

HOME

is a sleek, sculptural home that exemplifies modern minimalism with a warm, livable edge. The composition is guided by clean geometry, flat planes, and bold horizontal expression. It merges dark cladding with timber detailing to create texture, contrast, and visual rhythm. The flat roof and deep overhangs give it a grounded, contemporary aesthetic that balances shade and form. The front façade features a commanding central volume flanked by slender covered walkways, extending the architecture outward and welcoming visitors into a light-filled, central living space. Full-height glazed doors open onto a generous outdoor dining area beneath a covered terrace, offering perfect indoor-outdoor flow. A large picture window anchors the public-facing façade, framing the interior's warmth and openness.
